

The Western PA Family Center

In-Person Health Policy for Hybrid Events

THE CENTER'S POSITION

The Western Pennsylvania Family Center provides flexible, accessible programming through the use of hybrid formats, making it possible to participate either in person or online. The Center is prepared to accommodate changes in attendance as circumstances shift.

OPTIONS FOR ATTENDEES

Individuals attending the conference in person are informed that current health guidelines issued by state, local, and national authorities apply, including those related to infectious diseases. If symptoms of illness or changes in health status arise before or on the day of the event, remote participation remains available. The Center is available to assist with changes in attendance format or questions about access.
